

2020 AQHA Select All-Around Amateur Award Fact Sheet

Who qualifies for this award?

Any Select amateur exhibitor, who enters and shows one horse in a minimum of three events in two categories is eligible (refer to the Farnam AQHA World Handbook for a list of categories). No formal entry is required. A Select amateur may exhibit more than one horse; however, points earned with each horse toward the Select all-around title are compiled separately.

How is the winner determined?

The point-scoring process is based on the placings in each class. Select All-Around Amateur contenders who place in the top 10 of each class will be awarded two sets of points. Horses placing in the top 10 in a class will receive 10 points for first place, 9 points for second and so forth down the line through 10th place. Additional points awarded are based on the number of entries in the class according to SHW261. POINTS CHART, the points distribution system used to calculate AQHA points found in the AQHA Official Handbook. In case of a tie, the winner will be determined first by the horse earning points in the greatest number of classes and if the tie is still not broken, then by the horse placing over the greatest number of entries in the classes in which it competed.

What are the prizes?

The 2020 Select All-Around Amateur will receive a one-year lease of a Sundowner three-horse trailer and an original Lisa Perry bronze. The Select Reserve All-Around Amateur receives $2,500 and a silver bowl. The Select All-Around Amateur finalists, placing third through fifth, will receive $1,000.

When is the awards presentation?

Points are tabulated beginning with the first Adequan® Select World finals performance. Once the finalists are determined, you'll be notified by AQHA staff. AQHA staff will tell you the presentation time (the class it will follow in the finals), your placing and the order in which the awards will be presented. Please be available for the awards presentation and be ready to receive your award when called. After all, this is the most prestigious Select amateur award at the Adequan® Select World!
